

George Steiner

Purpose

To bring some past portfolios and portfolio rejects together into a very short photobook.

Why?

Because my hard drive is like a bottomless pit where all photos go to die.

And furthermore

To play around with the image framing and page background alternatives provided by the photobook software to distinguish portfolio groupings from each other, and show off the subject matter of each such group in a way that complements it's content.

This extract just shows individual pages of some of the different page formats that have been used in the photobook

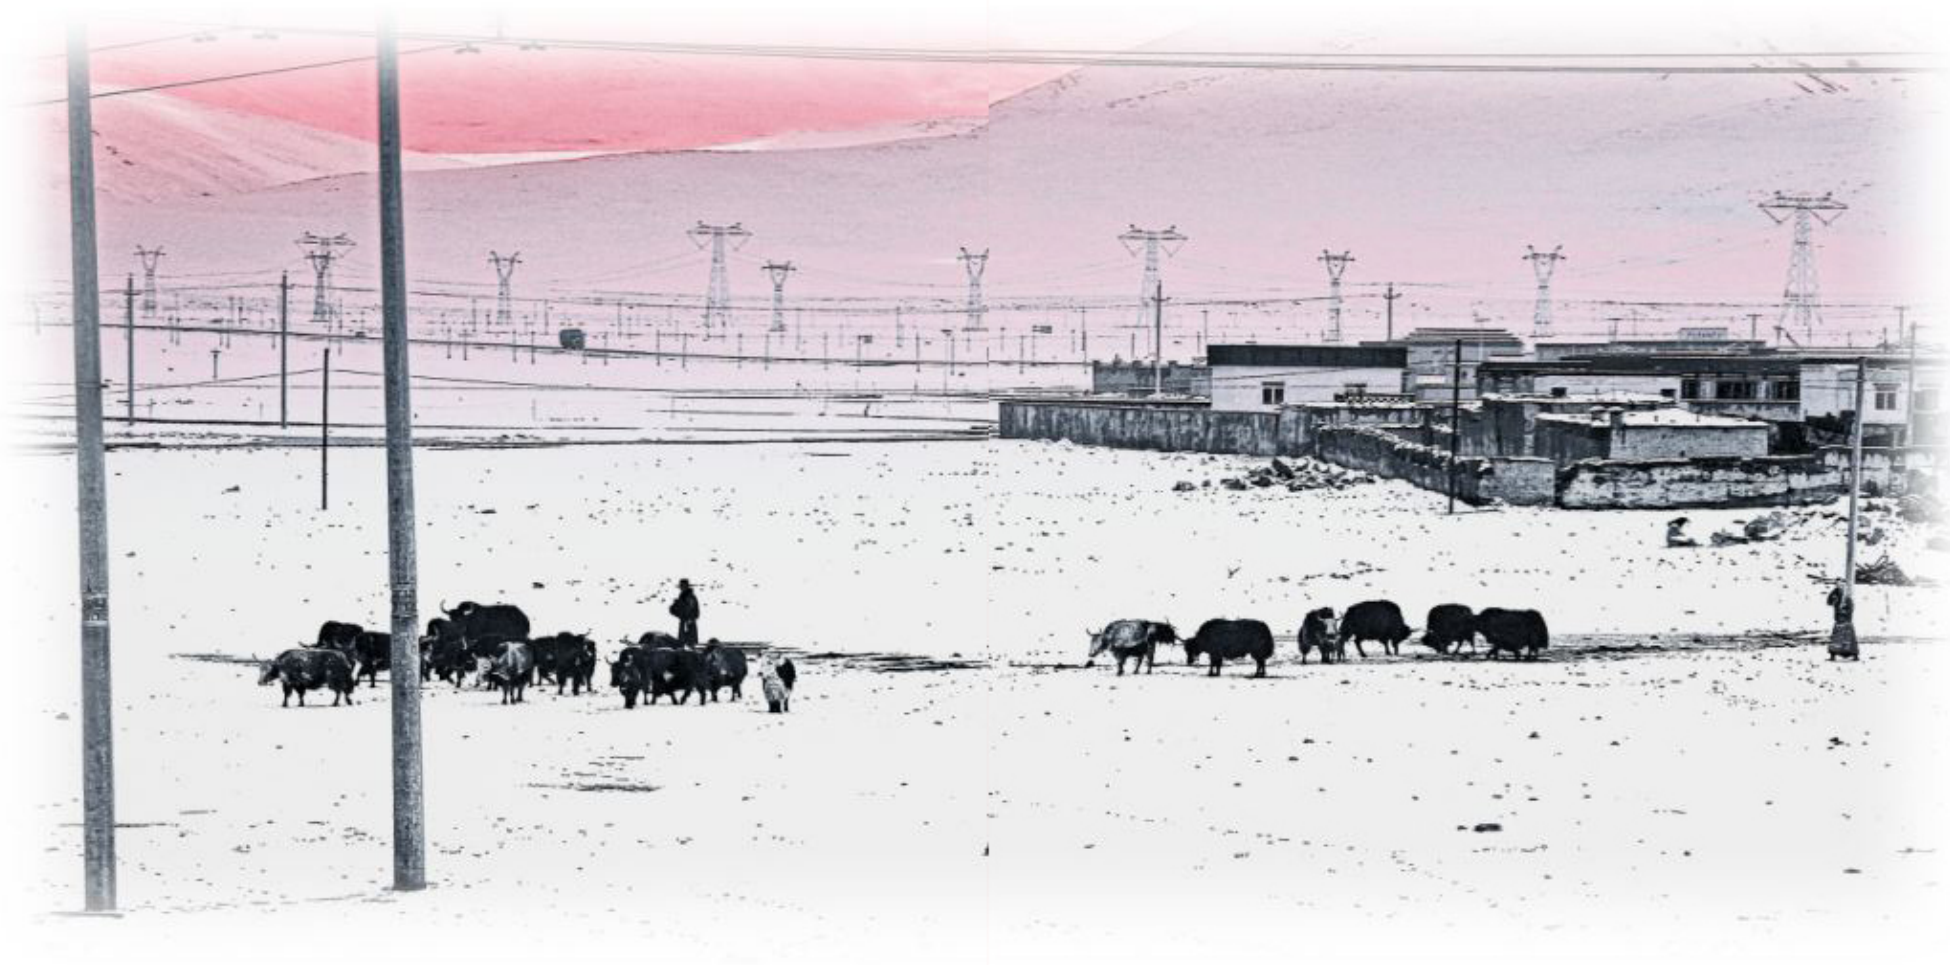

ODDS AND ENDS 2020

Cars

*Cars are the root of all evil
They poison our environment
Murder our children
Deplete our finances
And seduce us with their beauty ...*
