

Judy Watman

Morocco

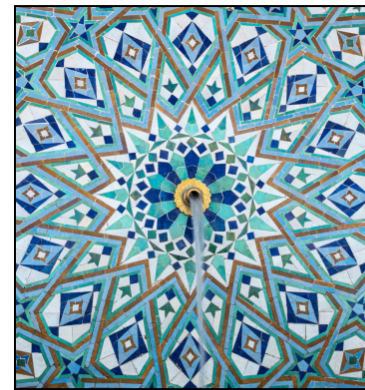

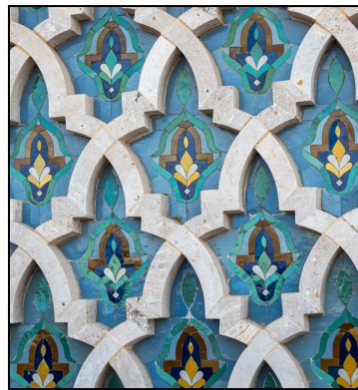

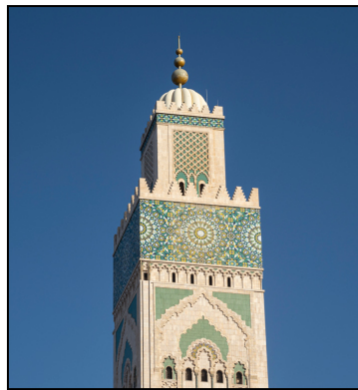

I made this photobook to preserve my memories of a fascinating trip to Morocco in late 2019.

For me, the photos are a wonderful reminder of a country with a rich culture, beautiful welcoming people, delicious food, lush green to barren desert landscapes, buzzing medinas and markets, basic to magnificent homes, ancient Roman ruins and a climate which varies from very hot & dry to the cool air of the coast.

Visiting Morocco reminded me again of the privileged life we lead in Australia.

Judy Watman

Berrem - a Berber village with mud brick houses and friendly people

Women look in and men relax in the mosque

Hand-woven silk fabrics

